Hidden Greece: The Pelion Peninsula

May 22 – 27, 2027

A quiet corner of Greece where mountains, sea, and tradition come together.

An Extension from Skopelos or a Standalone Journey

Overview

Kalimera — welcome to Pelion.

Pelion is where mountains meet the sea — a place of timeless stone villages, hidden coves, and winding paths that quietly connect it all.

This is a more authentic, untouched side of Greece. Life moves a little slower here, shaped by nature, tradition, and the beauty of simple moments.

Rather than following a rigid itinerary, our days will unfold organically — guided by the weather, the landscape, and the rhythm of the group. This allows us to experience Pelion in the most natural and meaningful way.

May 22 – Arrival into Pelion

For those continuing from the Skopelos Adventure, we will depart the island by private water taxi, crossing back to the mainland and into the mountains of Pelion.

For those joining this experience on its own, arrival will be into Volos, followed by a scenic transfer into the mountains.

We will all come together at Tilia Resort, our home for the next five nights.

What We Will Experience

During our time in Pelion, we will draw from a collection of thoughtfully curated experiences, allowing each day to take shape naturally.

These may include:

- Guided hikes along the historic kalderimia — ancient stone paths weaving through forests, olive groves, and breathtaking viewpoints
- A coastal boat excursion to hidden coves and the stunning Poseidon Caves
- Time at some of Pelion's most beautiful and secluded beaches
- A hands-on cooking experience rooted in traditional recipes and local ingredients
- A wine pairing dinner celebrating regional flavors and shared connection
- Exploration of mountain villages, local shops, and quiet corners of this remarkable region

There will always be space to slow down — to swim, wander, or simply take it all in.

This balance between movement and stillness is what makes Pelion so special.
